Hello,

The content has been reinstated because the information we received from you was incomplete.

We are concerned that some of the information in your takedown request may be fraudulent. Please understand that YouTube receives a large number of fraudulent copyright takedown requests, and we take abuse of that process very seriously (see YouTube, LLC v. Brady (D. Neb. 8:19-cv-00353)).

We remind you that in your allegation of copyright infringement, you stated that:

1. You are authorized to act on behalf of the owner of an exclusive right that is allegedly infringed, and acknowledge that any person who knowingly materially misrepresents that material or activity is infringing may be subject to liability for damages.
2. You understand that abuse of this form will result in termination of your YouTube account.

For each video in question, please explain how you're authorized to make this claim, including supporting documentation or other evidence wherever possible.

If we don't receive a detailed explanation from you within 7 days, your YouTube account may be terminated. You may be able to avoid termination if you retract your takedown request. If you wish to do so, please reply to this email with "I hereby retract my claim of copyright infringement."
